IN MEMORY OF MRS. OSCAR SAATHOFF.

In quick succession to a recent occurrence, the mortal remains of another citizen of Medina County have been brought back from the state of Arizona to be imbedded in homelands ground. And again it so happened that the new abode was but of a brief duration, adding little to a new lease on life. A comparatively young life was brought to a speedy termination and many hearts are sad and clinging to the hope of eternal life in Christ Jesus, the only hope that carries beyond death and grave, when other hopes crumble into dust and ashes. It's the hope of the Christian; it was the hope of her whose death we lament.

Lydia Jane Saathoff was the daughter of the former Fred Buss and his wife Mary, nee Aden. She was born at New Fountain on March 4, 1887, was christened at the Methodist church there and spent the early part of her life in that community till conditions necessitated a change and she made her home with an uncle, the Rev. Ed. Conken, living at Llano and later at Grasseville in Bastrop county. By this uncle she also was confirmed in April 1902, spending about twelve years in that family under very favorable influences.

On November 26, 1914, she was united in wedlock with Mr. Oscar Saathoff at Hondo and was his faithful and devoted spouse in every way. Future developments brought them away from Hondo over to San Antonio, and still later to their farm home in Upper Quihi where they lived for about six years till, in September, 1937, the family seemed to see better chances for a livelihood in Arizona and moved into the section near Bisbee Junction. The union was blessed with one son, Raymond, now with his father mourning the untimely death of a beloved mother.

Always of a frail constitution, the deceased went through severe trials of bodily ailments, especially after her confinement, and neither medical care nor careful hospitalization seemed to be able to stop the periodic recurrence of painful nervous attacks, leaving her usually in a state of utter exhaustion for a long time, nor devise a remedy to achieve a cure. Yet she bore these trials and periods of depressive sickness with great fortitude of mind and soul, never doubting the ways of her Lord and his love and mercy for her redeemed soul. The word of God and prayer was a steady comfort for her child-like faith, as we had occasion to witness at many occasions during her trying days. When conditions permitted, we also found her among the worshippers here at Quihi, and she was one of the most attentive, looking for strength and peace from heavenly resources.

Perhaps there was a ray of hope for physical improvement in her heart, when the change in location was decided upon. It was not to be. On the very trip at its start she was suffering. Then came a period of sick-free days, till another attack seized her last Thursday. Medical advice availed little. A proposed transportation to a hospital offered no relief. The fatal sinking spells pointed to a severe crisis. The end came fast on February 1st at 1:15 A. M. when her soul followed the summons of her Lord. Her loved ones were at her bedside. She had an age of 50 years, 10 months and 28 days. May heavenly bliss now comfort her.

Those bereaved by her death are her widower, Mr. Oscar Saathoff, and her son, Raymond; also one sister, Mrs. Emil Heyen, and one brother, Mr. Henry Buss. A wide circle of friends and relatives offer their sympathy.

The body was brought to Hondo, accompanied by her husband and her son. Funeral services were held at the Horgor Funeral Home on February 3rd, with interment at the New Quihi Cemetery. Both the floral offerings and the large number of people at her last rites were proof of the love and esteem for the deceased.

Pallbearers were: Robert Riff, Fritz Heyen, Arthur Schulte, John H. Saathoff, Geo. Saathoff, Woodrow Meyer.

May the Lord dry the tears of the mourners with the comforting assurance, He maketh all things well.

RIO-CLIFF H. D. CLUB.

Mrs. Henry Flory was hostess to the Rio-Cliff H. D. Club Thursday afternoon at her home. Miss Foley gave a very interesting discussion on improving and organizing the family's clothes storage space. All club members gave their educational contribution to the secretary-treasurer. A Mexican supper was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 11th, at the home of Miss Renata Wurzbach, when Mrs. F. G. Stinson will discuss common garden insects and how to control them. This is of interest to every member of the community; we invite you to come.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to tender most grateful thanks to all of our friends and relatives for their kindness and messages of sympathy, also for the many beautiful floral offerings extended during the illness and at the death of our beloved wife and mother, Lydia Saathoff. Especially do we thank Rev. C. Weeber of the Quihi Lutheran church for his kind words of consolation.

OSCAR SAATHOFF and son, Raymond.

QUIHI NOTES.

And he built an altar there, and called upon the name of the Lord, and pitched his tent there. Gen. 26:25.

"What greater calamity can fall upon a nation than the loss of worship?" Isaac had a similar thought in erecting his altar. The Lord had appeared to him, and had him assured of his presence and help and blessing. The altar signifies his "Thank you" and his renewed faith and the peace of his heart. His "Calling upon the name of the Lord" signifies his future course, his undaunted courage to proclaim his convictions by his very worship, to whom it may concern. The missionary obligation for his blindfolded and malicious pagan neighbors whose idols and religious tenets and morals had not prevented their maliciousness against Isaac, he now manifested it in his calm and characteristic way. The inscription on that altar might have read, "With malice towards none, with charity for all with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right." Of course he had suffered immensely and felt it deeply whatever injustice had inflicted upon him, but what can you expect of men, high or low, that in all their habits and attitudes and actions and human relations are guided only by the motives and impulses of a sinful heart, where the principles of a true God are not recognized, where moral standards offer no guidance, where the heart is airtight, hermetically closed against the purifying, regenerating and character-building Spirit of God? Whether it's the coarse-grained idolatrous barbarism of those days of hoary ancestry or the fine-fibred polished scepticism of today that eliminates God and His Spirit, and seeks refuge and hope for the purifying of man's heart and for the ennobling of his motives, by stressing culture and education (with a few moral morsels strewn in between); or by stressing our faith in science that has brought us ease and bodily comfort and physical safety and has opened many avenues of progress—and, by the way, claims there is no spiritual side of life, and regales us with the monstrous theorem that this world of undeniable laws, causes and effects, is itself the product of accidental circumstances, and life is but a chemical coincidence—we say, whether it's the early pre-scientific age or the modern scientific age with its arrogance and social etiquette and diversions, both are implanted in the soil of human selfishness, neither can change the heart and pre-empt it with pure motives, neither is it the source of true life, neither has the power to translate these new motives into forces of righteousness. Isaac is blazing the way in the right direction with his altar and his communion with God and his life in Him. More public Christianity in profession and life would give this world a different face.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Oscar Saathoff made it necessary to postpone the meeting of the Ladies' Aid until March. Members will please take notice.

Mr. Oscar Saathoff and son, Raymond, will return to Arizona in the near future, after the sad mission that brought both back to the home county. May the Lord open a bright future for them and comfort their depressed hearts.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley DeGroot had their baby-boy brought to the Lord in holy baptism. Floyd Wesley were the names selected for the young man, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Saathoff did him the honor of sponsorship. We commend him to the Lord's care and blessing.

Many of our young children around here are confined to their homes and the parents must be around them. Nothing serious, under good care, but we miss them in Sunday school and their folks in the services. No school for those days—one consolation.

An unexpected visitor invaded our premises today; the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Czerkus of the Buckholts congregation. Quihi is the place of his nativity, though his recollections have somewhat faded. His father was pastor here for many years. We enjoyed the brief visit for we have known the young pastor for many years.

Announcements for February the 13th: English service at 10:30; Sunday school 9:30; German service at New Fountain at 2 (induction of vestrymen); Luther League program at 7 P. M. Try to worship with us. We invite you.

DUNLAY H. D. CLUB MEETS.

The Dunlay Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Joe Zerr, wardrobe demonstrator, on February 2, 1938. The meeting was called to order by the chairman. The minutes were read and approved. Roll was called, there being present eleven members and two guests. Educational funds were paid to the secretary-treasurer.

Miss Nell Foley gave a very interesting talk on improving and organizing the family's clothes storage space.

Mrs. Krenmueller asked the members to save clippings of different magazines to be used at the meetings. After the business meeting Mrs. Zerr served pie and coffee to the members and guests.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. J. Krenmueller on January 16th.

Hollywood Comes to Cotulla

Filming To Start in February

Yes as Robert Ripley would say it, believe it or not, Hollywood is coming to Cotulla. The La Motta Ranch, twenty-five miles southwest of Cotulla, is being prepared for the filming of the moving picture "Marching Herds".

"The Box Office Barometer", a theatrical magazine, gives the cast for "Marching Herds" as Randolph Scott, Frances Dee, Loyd Nolan and Mae Robson. Lucian Hubbard will produce the film, while James Hogan, director of the current "Ebb Tide", will direct the filming.

"Marching Herds" is a story of Texas in the 1870's following the Civil War and during the historic Reconstruction Period. Over 1000 cattle have been rounded-up for the picture, and actual "shooting" of scenes is expected to start February 12.

MAVERICK 4-H MEETS.

"Since none of you girls are able to be garden demonstrators we will spend the time during the garden meetings on learning new ways of recreation," said Miss Nell Foley, County Home Demonstration Agent to the Maverick 4-H Club girls, on Jan. 6, 1938. After a short business meeting Miss Foley taught us some new games that were good entertainment and could be played most any time. We played one of these games at the meeting.

The members present were Fay Schuchart, Madelyn and Esther Steubing and Chloris and LaVerne Beuzung.

We urge more girls to join our club in order to make it larger and more interesting.

"The main feature of our meeting today is to study our year book," said Mrs. A. N. Mangold, sponsor of the Maverick 4-H Club girls, on Jan. 20, 1938. After singing for recreation and a short business meeting we studied our year books. We found that we will learn to can, to make light weight bedding, refinish furniture, make a dresser scarf, and make one piece of play equipment.

The members present were Fay Schuchart, Chloris and LaVerne Beuzung, and Madelyn and Esther Steubing.

Windrow's DRUG NEWS

make SURE of a BETTER CORN YIELD by treating seed with Semesan Jr.

REDUCES SEED ROTTING AND SEEDLING BLIGHT—IMPROVES AND INCREASES YIELD

This year—with good seed corn scarce and expensive—seed treatment with SEMESAN JR. amounts to real crop insurance. All it costs is 1½c an acre—an investment generally returned almost at once by the improved stand, and repaid many times over when the crop matures.

SEMESAN JR. reduces seed rotting, seedling blight, root and stalk rots—gives corn the healthy start necessary for a big yield. In nine-year Iowa tests, seed treatment increased the average yield 4 bushels an acre. Circular 444, Illinois—where the average increase has been about 3 bushels an acre—says SEMESAN JR. is "one of the best disinfectants for seed corn now on the market."

SEMESAN JR. is easy to use—just dusted on the seed. Will not clog the planter. Four oz., 35c; 1 lb., 75c; 5 lbs., $4.75. Ask us for free Corn Pamphlet containing plans for making your own rotary treater.

JANUARY TERM OF COURT CLOSES.

The District Court for Medina County reconvened Friday after a short recess and adjourned the same day, as the work for the January term of court was completed. Several civil and criminal cases were continued until the next term of court in June.

In the case of G. D. Whitfield, Receiver of Adams Company, vs. Harry Landa, et al, the plea of privilege of the defendant and the plaintiff's controverting affidavit thereof having been filed, the Court heard and considered the plea and over-ruled it. To this action and ruling of the Court, the defendant, Harry Landa, in open court duly excepted, and gave notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals for the Fourth Supreme Judicial District of Texas, sitting at San Antonio. The defendant was thereby allowed fifty days in which to file his statement of facts and bills of exceptions.

In the C. G. White vs. Gladys White divorce case heard the same day, the plaintiff was granted divorce from defendant, whose maiden name of Gladys B. Neely was restored. Costs were taxed against the plaintiff.

The defendants in the case of Bexar-Medina-Atascosa Counties Water Improvements District No. 1 vs. John Haney, administrator, et al., were adjudged indebted to plaintiff for delinquent taxes and maintenance and operation assessments, secured by statutory liens. It was, therefore, ordered by the Court that the liens be foreclosed and sale of land ordered.

The expense account for the January term of District Court of Medina County is as follows:

|--|----------|
| Grand Jury | $144.00 |
| Bailiffs | 48.00 |
| Petit Jury | 171.00 |
| Meals for Jurors | 3.00 |

| Interpreter (Harold Stiegler) | 3.00 |
| Sheriff's attendance upon Court 12 days @ $4.00 per day | 48.00 |
| Total expenses | $435.00 |

The boys were looking for seed corn, and say their section now has a fair season in the ground and they are hopeful of a fair crop year this year. Thirty-six and '37 were both complete failures. The total rainfall for 1937 was only 7.75 inches at their farm. They are busy feeding their cattle and hurried back home, limiting their visit to only one day.

MISS ANNIE HEYEN BURIED.

Funeral services for Miss Annie Heyen, mention of whose death occurring about four o'clock Thursday afternoon, February 3, 1938, was made in last week's paper, were held Friday afternoon of last week. The services were held at the Horger Funeral Home, Rev. W. S. Highsmith of the Methodist Church conducting the same. The pall-bearers were: Robert Hartung, Hugo Schweers, Fritz Heyen, Fritz Martin, Oscar Bader and O. C. Marquis. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

Miss Heyen was born near Hondo on March 9, 1881, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Heyen. She is survived by three brothers and two sisters. The brothers are: John G. Heyen of Uvalde, Albert Heyen of Uvalde and George Heyen of San Antonio. The sisters are: Mrs. Aug. E. Schuehle of Quihi and Mrs. Edgar Rieber of Upper Hondo.

Miss Heyen had spent the greater part of her life in the county of her birth, was a beautician by occupation and up to about a year ago ran a beauty shop in Hondo. Death came to her as a result of pneumonia and she was sick for only a few days. She was a member of the local Methodist church, was sustained in her final hours by the faith in which she trusted and was buried with the beautiful rites of the church which sponsors that faith and to which she adhered.

SET PECANS, FIGS, AND GRAPE.

While many fruits require so much spraying, pruning, and expert care as to make it difficult for the average householder to produce crops of good quality profitably, there are three Southern fruits which are almost fool-proof—the pecan, the fig, and the scuppernon. Says The Progressive Farmer:

"Figs, grapes, pecans—let's plant more of all of them! All three produce abundant crops under conditions of neglect that other fruits would not survive. On the other hand, the little care and attention needed will multiply the period of production of these three fruits and contribute generously to better health and greater happiness through their home-grown offerings. Figs may be easily propagated by cuttings or layering, scuppernons by layering, pecans by budding or grafting. And while requiring little trouble, all three live and thrive for years and even generations. Fig trees live 20 to 30 years, pecans at least 100 and scuppernons 200 years."

SHRUBBERY BEING REMOVED FROM RAILROAD PARK.

The first preparatory step in the improving and widening of Highway No. 90 through Hondo was taken this week, when the Commissioners Court of Medina County received the sanction of the State Highway Department and the Railroad Company to remove trees and shrubbery from the company's park south of the depot. Only those trees and shrubs in the twenty-five foot strip to be used in widening the highway are being removed, and this is being done by those people who wish to transplant them at their own expense. This does not include the rosebushes, which have been the pride of the railroad company and its employees. Individuals desiring to secure any of the trees and shrubs may do so by getting the permission of the County Judge.

ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION.

Hon. R. J. Noonan opens our announcement column this week with his announcement for re-election to a second term as District Attorney of the 38th Judicial District. Mr. Noonan was nominated and elected to this position two years ago without opposition. During the short time he has served in this responsible position he has given the same careful and energetic attention to the duties incumbent upon him as distinguished the twenty-two years he served Medina County as County Judge. He hopes his record will receive the approval of the voters by a re-election for another term.

BILL VAN FLEET WEDS.

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized last evening when Miss Virginia Helen Gwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Raymond Gwin, became the bride of Wilburn M. Van Fleet, son of Mrs. Lucy Van Fleet of Fort Worth and the late L. J. Van Fleet of Hondo, at 7 P. M. at the home of the bride's parents. Dr. Will R. Johnson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony.

White stock blossoms were arranged on the antique mahogany table in the living room. Lighted white tapers flanked the flowers at either side, and other spring blossoms were placed at vantage points about the home. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. William F. Edwards, at the piano, played "Believe Me Of All Those Endearing Young Charms".

Mrs. Brian Spinks, who was the bride's only attendant, was wearing midnight-blue, figured in white, with white lingerie ornamentation. She wore a blue straw hat and other accessories of blue, and her shoulder corsage was of red carnations.

The bride was attired in a Molyneux model of French blue sheer wool, fashioned on tailored lines, with lace yoke and sleeves. Her hat was of cornflower blue with veil, and her other accessories were gray. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweet-heart rosebuds.

Paul L. Lewis attended the bridegroom as best man.

An informal reception for members of the two families and a few intimate friends immediately followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a handsome Madeira and fluted lace cloth and held as a centerpiece a beautifully embossed wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Fleet left later in the evening and will be at home after Feb. 6 at 4605 Lafayette street, Fort Worth. Mrs. Van Fleet chose for traveling an ensemble of emerald green wool dress with gray caracul coat, with which she wore a gray hat and other accessories.

The bride was graduated from Occidental College, Los Angeles, Cal., after which she became a member of the editorial staff of The News, serving in various capacities, including that of city editor.

Mr. Van Fleet attended Schreiner Institute and the University of Texas. He was sports editor of The News for several years and is now a member of the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in the sports department.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mrs. Effie Thomas of Rensselaer, Ind., sister of Mr. Gwin; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gwin and daughters, Dorothy and Betty Jane of Houston, and Mrs. Lucy Van Fleet of Fort Worth, who will remain in Galveston for several weeks with her daughters, Mrs. Robert W. Burgess and Miss Altha Van Fleet.—The Galveston News.

Mr. Van Fleet graduated from Hondo High School in 1926, and is the brother of Messrs. Clarence and Alton Van Fleet of Hondo. He has a host of friends in Hondo who congratulate him on his marriage and extend best wishes.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

A hymn which is simple yet which beautifully voices the central truth of Scripture: salvation through faith in Christ and His atonement, is that composed by Augustus Montague Toplady, "Rock of Ages". It was his mother who influenced Toplady to become a Christian and later he resolved to enter the ministry; the mother's prayers were answered. Born in 1740, the author of this hymn lived only 38 years. Yet this hymn alone is enough to preserve his memory in the Christian Church and the world. Sung in times of joy and times of sorrow, it does not fail to move the soul with its simple melody and Biblical faith. The popularity of "Rock of Ages" is apparent in the fact that it has been translated into more languages than any other English hymn, namely 150. It is said that England's great premier, Mr. Gladstone, was being attacked in the House of Commons, and during this time he sat calmly translating this hymn into Latin. He also made a Greek translation. We quote the first stanza:

Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee!
Let the water and the blood,
From Thy riven side which flowed,
Be of sin the perfect cure,
Save me, Lord, and make me pure.

There will be German service Sunday, February 13, beginning at 10:30. Sunday school and Bible Class meet at 9:00 A. M.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock the W. M. S. met at the church in its monthly business meeting. Mrs. J. A. Horger gave the spiritual message, her theme being "The Need of Evangelism", beginning first in the home. After the devotionals, the business was conducted by the vice president, Miss Lora King, as the president was absent. All officers and committees gave good reports.

A very interesting report of the Zone meeting held in Uvalde last week was given by Mrs. W. S. Highsmith. The Zone meeting was attended by Rev. and Mrs. Highsmith, Miss Bertha Newton and Miss Lora King.

Ways and means of raising money were then discussed and it was decided to have a birthday party at the next meeting, each member inviting a guest and all bringing the number of pennies equaling their age for the birthday box. This meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Theo. Cameron on February 21st.

It was planned to send a sunshine box to our sick member, Mrs. Frank Schweers, to cheer her during her illness.

The social service committee reported twenty-four visits to the sick and flowers also given.

Thirteen members attended this meeting.

The opinions here expressed are Mr. Preston's own and not necessarily those of this paper.—M. E.

SLOWING RECOVERY.

Washington, for several weeks past now, has been the scene of almost daily conferences designed to bring about better co-operation between government and business as a means toward lifting the Nation from a recession bog. From all indications, the talks have served to bring about a better understanding, if nothing else.

Almost to a man, every business leader invited to the Capitol City to express his views on the economic problems has urged that the tax burden on business be lightened as one of the most certain means of renewing the recovery march, and that the competition of government in business with its own citizens should be curbed.

These business men know—as the government should know now—that money paid in taxes cannot be spent for wages; that the same dollar can't go into the tax till and the pay envelope at the same time. This philosophy isn't something new to be heard around Washington—Congress had the same idea last December when it was in special session.

Everyone seems to be in accord on the matter—that stifling taxation must be ended; that tax money, if unleashed in the business field, will go a long way toward providing jobs for unemployed workers. Why, then, should there be any further delay in taking this important step toward industrial recovery?

—WS—

To those who wonder just exactly what are some of the causes of the present feeling of uncertainty, Joseph P. Kennedy, retiring chairman of the Maritime Commission supplies an answer in his annual report:

"Despite the urgent need for new construction (in the shipping industry), private operators hesitate in the face of the present labor situation. Chaotic labor conditions, signalized by demands of the crew, 'sit-down' and 'quickie' strikes, and slipshod performance of duties are characteristic of the industry.

"No lasting cure will be effected until the jurisdictional strife now prevalent in maritime labor is terminated and a more cooperative working arrangement is reached by the unions and the ship operators."

A Washington wisecracker, after reading that, wondered if that is why Kennedy has been "promoted" from chairmanship of the Maritime Commission to the Ambassadorship to Great Britain.

—WS—

How times do change! The recent court verdict convicting oil companies of agreeing to establish prices stirred up old memories in the minds of a flock of Washington newspaper correspondents.

It was less than five years ago that at General Hugh Johnson's order representatives of the oil industry were locked up in a room to stay there without sleep until they reached an agreement!

But that was in the days of the NRA! And what was mandatory then is a sin now!

—WS—

Speaking of the NRA, a new organization has been launched in Washington. It is the Sick Chicken Club, and will hold its annual meeting each May 27, anniversary of the day the Supreme Court stopped the erratic flight of the Blue Eagle.

Hugh Johnson will be the "Great Thundering Rooster."

—WS—

One Washington barber got a laugh out of the fact that somebody else discovered the advertising value of picketing.

Newspaper accounts said the Pennsylvania Museum of Art at Philadelphia was being picketed to entice visitors into the Museum. The Washington barber tried that out a year ago. When his shop was first picketed because of union troubles, people would not enter before he had noticed the shop walked in for service.

So when the strike was settled, the barber paid a friend for weeks to parade up and down with a sign saying: "This shop unfair to organized labor." Business finally got so good that he fired the picket.

—WS—

Eaves-dropping used to be looked down upon, if our memory is correct. But when Louis Glavis, one-time chief investigator for Secretary Ickes, was on the grill before a Senate committee for tapping telephone wires, he objected to the phrase "eaves-dropping." He said "eaves-dropping" would come nearer an accurate description of what he did, thus spying upon employees becomes an approved practice when undertaken officially.

Folks who think the mysteries of Washington are simple should profit from the experience of Pasquale Carfagno, a member of the CCC camp at Annapolis, Maryland.

With some camp mates, Pasquale came to Washington on a sightseeing trip. He got separated from his party at the Capitol. Hours later, foot-sore and weary, he showed up at a police station to ask his way back to Annapolis.

Asked what he thought of Washington, Pasquale replied he couldn't say because he had spent most of his time underground. He got lost in the labyrinth of subways under the Capitol and the Senate and House office buildings.

"NOBODY'S BUSINESS."

By Julian Capers, Jr.

(The opinions here expressed are Mr. Capers' own and do not necessarily represent those of this paper.)

M. E. AUSTIN—Ending the parade of witnesses who for two weeks have told interesting, but conflicting stories of the operation of the State Land Office, under the administration of Bill McDonald, the Senate investigation this week was definitely recessed, subject to the call of Chairman Tom Holbrook. It is expected the probe will be resumed later.

The investigation apparently has developed nothing to justify a special session of the Legislature, since the evidence of maladministration by McDonald obviously was for sufficient reason to sustain an impeachment move. It did reveal, however, a need for legislative revision of the statutes governing the leasing of State school lands, the filing of vacancy claims, and the administration of the office. This legislation, which probably will be delayed until the next regular session, will doubtless seek to limit the discretion and authority of the Land Commissioner, it is thought will define more closely the manner of leasing, and will undoubtedly vest in a board—probably including experienced oil men—many of the powers now administered by the Commissioner.

Effect upon McDonald's political fortunes, however, probably will be felt in the July primary. The effect of the testimony, and, in the hands of a capable campaigner, the record compiled at the two weeks' hearings, will prove a potent campaign document.

Solons Failed To Act.

In passing, it is recalled that the Legislature, at its last regular session, had an opportunity to correct the Land Office situation, but killed the corrective bill, authored by Ex-Speaker Coke Stevenson, in committee. Judge Ralph Yarborough, who this week took a leave of absence from his Austin district court bench to campaign for Attorney General, made a two-hour speech against the bill before a committee. Commissioner McDonald, then only a few weeks in office, likewise appeared to oppose it. Stevenson would have transferred discretionary powers vested in the Commissioner, to a Board of Mineral Development, similar to that which administers the University's endowment fund by millions of dollars from its oil lands.

Oil Surplus Grows.

A further reduction in Texas' oil production, either by extension of the present six-day shutdown of all wells, or by reducing daily allowable, was indicated here this week, as Rail Commissioner Ernest Thompson reported the Sunday shutdowns were cutting total production only about 178,000 barrels weekly, instead of the 200,000 barrel reduction expected for the plan. Next monthly production hearing is scheduled February 18th. Consumption of oil products has steadily declined, due to recession of business in the East, and gasoline and crude stocks above ground are at an all time peak. Thompson pointed out. There was a net increase in stock equivalent to five and one half million barrels of crude oil in the nation during the past week, Thompson cited figures to show.

Rail Body Offers Rate Help.

Towns and cities of Texas, under an order of the Texas Railroad Commission, may now have, free for the asking, the services of the Commission's oil and gas division, in fixing gas rates. Chairman C. V. Terrell announced. Under the procedure, the Commission will send its engineers to ascertain fair local rates on request of the incorporated towns and cities, and will provide engineering and legal service to take such rate cases to the highest courts, without cost to the petitioning towns. Terrell said. This procedure, designed to meet an amendment which the last legislature adopted to State laws, giving towns and cities concurrent original jurisdiction over gas rates with the Commission, will relieve the Commission of criticism which has been voiced by gas companies of "butting into" local rate situations, since the request must come from governing officials of the affected cities, before the Commission participates in a local rate controversy.

Nelson And Mann In.

Senator G. H. Nelson, of Tahoka, formally entered the race for Lieutenant Governor with a war on lobbyists and a unicameral legislature as his principal platform planks. His entry brings the field to four announced candidates—Walter Woodward, of Coleman; Coke Stevenson, of Junction; Sen. Wilbourne Collier, of Eastland. All are from West Texas. Gerald C. Mann, ex-SMU football star, who has been actively campaigning for Attorney General several months, formally announced for that office. This field now includes Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, Mann, Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin, and Speaker Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, and Lewis Goodrich of Shamrock. Everett Looney, with a surprising statement from a politician, to the effect that "there are able and competent men in the race," declared he wouldn't run. Boyce House, former Fort Worth newspaperman, and writer for national magazines, has been delegated two years ago by Bill McDonald, Land Commissioner. The governor's race marked time last week, with Bill McCraw, attorney general, still absent from the State on the Green will case hearings, but it was expected to resume violent activity again with McCraw's imminent return to the State. Adherents of "Red" Thompson, the other leading contender, were quietly putting together an organization that will begin to function on a statewide basis during March. Gov. Allred, in Washington this week to attend

THE STRANGER.

He cut my wood, he raked my leaves—
I did not know his name—
Or whether from the East or West
The ragged stranger came.

I gave him bread, and from my store,
Brought out a garment warm—
Too bad to be upon the road
When it is sure to storm."

I watched him limping round the bend,
Through tears that blurred my sight,
"God pity all the hungry ones
And homeless ones tonight!"

And there, where he had passed along,
The road was glorified,
And One passed down that shining way,
The stranger at His side.

The stranger, clad in my warm coat,
Pressed to His side in deep humility,
But He touched my tear wet eyes and said:
"Ye did it unto Me!"

A TOAST.

A toast to the days that are lonely,
And a cheer for the days that are sad;
For these do not come to us only,
There's a host of good things to be had.

Then here's to the dreams that were ours—
May they sleep where we buried them deep
While we, with the changing of hours,
Dare to build with a mind better skilled.

And love—shall we mention it, too?
Then to lip with your glass as we sip
To eyes and to hearts which we knew
With a skip in our breath and a slip.
For this is the toast of a singer
To the songs which have died in his throat;
May one of the choruses linger
To be sung once again through each note.

So up with your glasses and merry;
Give a smile to that sweet after-while
Which comes to all men who don't tarry
On the style of the past or its trial.

With a record of 50 years of public service behind him, and with two consecutive overwhelming endorsements by the voters for the policies of the majority of the Railroad Commission—which he has consistently supported—Terrell's friends report him little worried over his opposition.

Joe Monkhouse, State representative of this district, states he is heartily in favor of the unicameral or one-house legislature. He believes it would be economical for the State and would center responsibility where it belonged. It would do away with passing the buck from house to senate and vice versa. While the number of legislators would be reduced the districts would be adequately represented. In the interest of efficiency and economy, he believes that the voters should demand of their representatives the submission of the unicameral system to the voters of Texas.

EXTREMISTS.

By Clayton Rand.
It's usually the extremists who wreck the country, whether they be ECONOMIC ROYALISTS on the one hand or POLITICAL BIGOTS on the other.

The self-centered conservatives and the cockeyed radicals serve no useful purpose except to show the rest of us that they are equally wrong.

America needs a great patriotic party of liberals, who above all else puts the preservation of the Republic first.

It could find its simple platform in strict adherence to the Constitution, economy in public expenditures and efficiency in office. Such an American Party, dedicated to the protection of the lives property and liberty of its people, could sweep the country.

COTTON CHOPPING.

From the Washington Merry-Go-Round, Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen's syndicated column in the daily press, we clip the following:

"New deal cotton experts are suffering a novel headache. They are facing the threat of new efficiency in cotton production through the invention of a cotton chopping machine.

"It is a machine which the inventors call 'a hoe with a seat'. It takes the hoe out of the hand of the negro cotton chopper, and chops 16,000 hills of cotton an hour—the work of eight to 12 men. It is a two wheeled, rubber tired machine which can be drawn by a pair of mules or a tractor.

"The reason new deal experts are worried is that, in the first place, the mechanical chopper, if widely used will displace hundreds of thousands of farm hands. Second place, it will cause increased production of cotton and tend to offset the reduction program of the A. A. A.

"The department of agriculture tested this machine at their field station in Greenville, Tex., and the RESULTS WERE SO ASTOUNDING THAT THEY WERE SUPPRESSED, fearing that publication would boost the sales.

"Called the 'Dixie Cotton Chopper' it is manufactured in Dallas, Tex., by a firm of rabid anti-new dealers, who bitterly oppose the A. A. A. program, and declare that W. P. A. has spoiled negroes so that they refuse to hoe cotton any more. They declare the mechanical chopper can not throw men out of work because field hands are all on W. P. A. and unwilling to work.

"In addition to pushing domestic sales of the machine, the manufacturers have made sales arrangements in the three South American cotton countries—Brazil, Peru, and Argentina—now potent competitors of the United States."

Since when, may we ask, has it become the business of our Experiment Stations to suppress facts the knowledge of which would increase and cheapen production of farm products?

Why is an Experiment Station?

NEBRASKA'S WAY.

Pay-as-you-go has been required by the constitution of Nebraska since 1875. When the constitution was made in 1920, pay-as-you-go was kept. At intervals since amendments to permit state debts have been proposed.

The people said "No". And yet, says a writer for the North American Newspaper Alliance, "in the face of rising national and state public indebtedness, Nebraska today stands out as the only state with no income tax, no general sales tax and no cigar tax, and still has no public debt." Gov. Cocker has a five-point explanation of Nebraska's success in maintaining state expenses and supporting a good program of public improvements without getting in debt:

1. Resistance to pressure groups seeking greater expenditures.
2. Constitutional and legislative limitations on spending by local subdivisions of government.

3. Efficient administration.

4. Avoiding new forms of taxes which usually result in additional taxes and certainly heavy administration costs.

5. The pay-as-you-go plan for all state expenditures.

Nebraska is setting a good example, and its resistance to "pressure groups" is an achievement that deserves emulation.—Detroit News.

Let us guard against corruption and usurpation, and above all and beyond all let us guarantee to the coming generations the inestimable privileges of education and the freedom of the press, for when they are shackled and restricted, the hands of liberty are powerless.—Albert Pike in 1834.

VOLUNTEER FIRE COMPANY MEETS.

The members of the volunteer fire company met at the school building Monday night to hear the report of the committee that visited with the Alamo Fire Company last Friday night. Rev. Falkenberg made a splendid report explaining in detail the equipment the Alamo Fire Company has in coping with fire. The latest inventions in fire nozzles places the losses of fire at a minimum and secures for the citizens a reduction in key rates. Mr. A. A. Murrell was appointed a committee of one to secure figures and prices in fire fighting equipment. A committee consisting of Joe F. Schott,

Joe Bader and Rev. Falkenberg was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws and make their report Monday night when the report of Mr. Murrell will be received. After the meeting a demonstration of the booster fire extinguisher will be given at the school building. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting and see the demonstration.

The fire company is organized to protect the homes of our community, hence it needs your support in their endeavor. The loss of one home by fire costs more than the best equipment needed to fight fires. The fire company is expecting every citizen to be present at the Monday night meeting. Let's make it 100%.

TAXATION AND CITIZENSHIP.

The tax question is rapidly becoming uppermost in the mind of every thinking citizen. It is a theme which many observers believe cannot be stressed too much, particularly at this time. Public debts—local, state and federal—have increased until about twenty-five cents out of every dollar of income now goes for taxes of one kind or another—principally hidden—and the end of the increase does not appear to be in the near future.

Experts estimate that one-fifth to one-fourth of the average family income now goes for taxes. In other words, of every month's salary or wages about one-fourth is absorbed by local, state, and federal taxes, of which it is estimated the Federal Government alone will be getting over two-fifths, or about eleven cents out of every dollar of income, by the end of the fiscal year of 1937.

By some of those who have examined the elements of taxation, this estimate is believed to be conservative. Mr. Henry A. Frazier of the California Consumers Association, says: "There are approximately 205 accumulated taxes in the price of gasoline, or 40 per cent of the cost."

"Taxes on eggs represent 61 per cent of the cost."

"Three-fourths of the price you pay for the breakfast bacon, or 36 cents out of 48 cents per pound, represents hidden taxes."

"Fifteen cents out of the 25 cents paid for two packages of cigarettes represent taxation."

"A baker wraps up 53 taxes with every loaf of bread he sells or 3 cents on a 9-cent loaf."

Mr. Frazier's method of arriving at the various tax elements which enter into the prices of the items of consumption may be questioned; error may occur in some of his calculations. But it cannot be doubted that we already have a vast array of taxes and that they must, on the face of existing conditions, go higher on nearly every commodity or service now in the tax schedules.

Students of economics criticize hidden taxation. Some of them speak of it as a cowardly means of raising revenues. Others point to it as a dangerous instrument in the hands of unscrupulous politicians, for the very reason that revenues may usually be collected without the consumer's knowledge. Still others contend that hidden taxation is unscientific and has no place in democratic forms of government. For this reason it is generally conceded that if the so-called "invisible" method of raising revenue were reduced to a minimum and methods adopted which would bring the taxpayer and tax collector face to face, our citizens would immediately become tax-conscious.

Such a state of mind, it is contended, would develop a keenness and responsibility of citizenship which would greatly aid in the solution of most of our pressing problems of statecraft. Today the Federal Government raises approximately two-thirds of its revenues from hidden taxation, and state and municipal governments get much of their revenues by the same means.

In 1934, the Federal Government collected a little over $3,100,000,000. Only about $500,000,000 of this amount came from visible taxation, known as the income tax. The balance was collected by the hidden method of raising revenue. It is estimated that during the fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1936, the Federal Government will receive $5,650,000,000, a vast amount of which will come through invisible sources. In other words, probably less than $2,000,000,000 of government revenue will come from the income tax, much of which, collected from corporations, will be passed on and taken from the consumer's pocket.

The local, state, and Federal governments have developed a momentum of spending which will require a desperate effort to check. Much of the funds dispersed for relief and in the form of loans to our people and corporations was borrowed, but pay-day is at hand—at least, it cannot be long evaded. Federal taxes will have to be doubled to meet present obligations of interest and if reasonable payments on the principal borrowed are to be made.

The billions of dollars which have gone to stave off hunger and suffering of millions of unfortunate people and to bolster the prevailing economic system are not begrudged by sympathetic and understanding citizens. But we still have a socially basic unemployment problem, which calls for hundreds of millions of dollars for relief, to say nothing of the huge expense incident to the administration of relief funds and other projects of the Federal Government. This incidental expense now involves the employment of over 200,000 additional federal employees, the salaries of whom, at an average of $1,500 per annum, call for appropriations of over $3,000,000,000, to which is added the expenses incident to this employment, such as rents, stationery, equipment, etc.

By living on borrowed money the Federal Government has been able to stave off the day of reckoning, but that day cannot be indefinitely postponed.

It is believed by many that common sense dictates that an equitable solution of our political-economic questions must be found in order that unemployment may cease to be a factor in our national affairs, that borrowing may be discontinued, and that the local, state, and Federal governments may get on a basis of "pay as you go."—Scottish Rite News Bureau.

TEXAS POULTRY.

The question of what farm enterprises can be expanded in Texas to help fill the gap in farm income resulting from the loss of a substantial part of her cotton market, is discussed by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and statistician of the Bureau of Business Research, at The University of Texas.

"Among the possibilities which have been mentioned is the poultry and egg industry," Dr. Buechel said. "The trend of production in this industry, will be watched with growing interest by close students of agricultural development in Texas."

"The Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas in conjunction with the United States Department of Agriculture and the management of railway systems of the State have for a number of years assembled and compiled detailed information concerning the poultry and egg industry of the State so far as it is reflected in railway shipments. These data are nearly 100 per cent accurate so far as interstate shipments are concerned.

"It is assumed that interstate shipments, moreover, reflect with considerable accuracy the increase or decrease in production since the amount of local consumption probably does not change, appreciably from year to year. Hence these interstate shipments should be a good index of changes in production."

"Combined shipments of Texas poultry, turkeys, and eggs, to interstate points fell off sharply each year from 1931 to 1935. An increase in 1936 over the preceding year may have marked the reversal of this downward trend, but this is not at all certain, for poultry and egg production at present is relatively unprofitable on account of the unfavorable feed-egg ratio. That is to say, it takes a considerably larger number of eggs to equal in value 100 pounds of poultry feed now than it did a year ago. Under these circumstances there is a tendency to reduce the size of flocks, thus temporarily increasing shipments of poultry; and to use fewer eggs for hatching purposes, and thus to put a larger proportion of eggs on the market for current consumption. As a consequence of these influences there will be a tendency for shipments of poultry and eggs to decline when the results of this spring's hatchings are ready for market late next fall and in the winter of 1938."

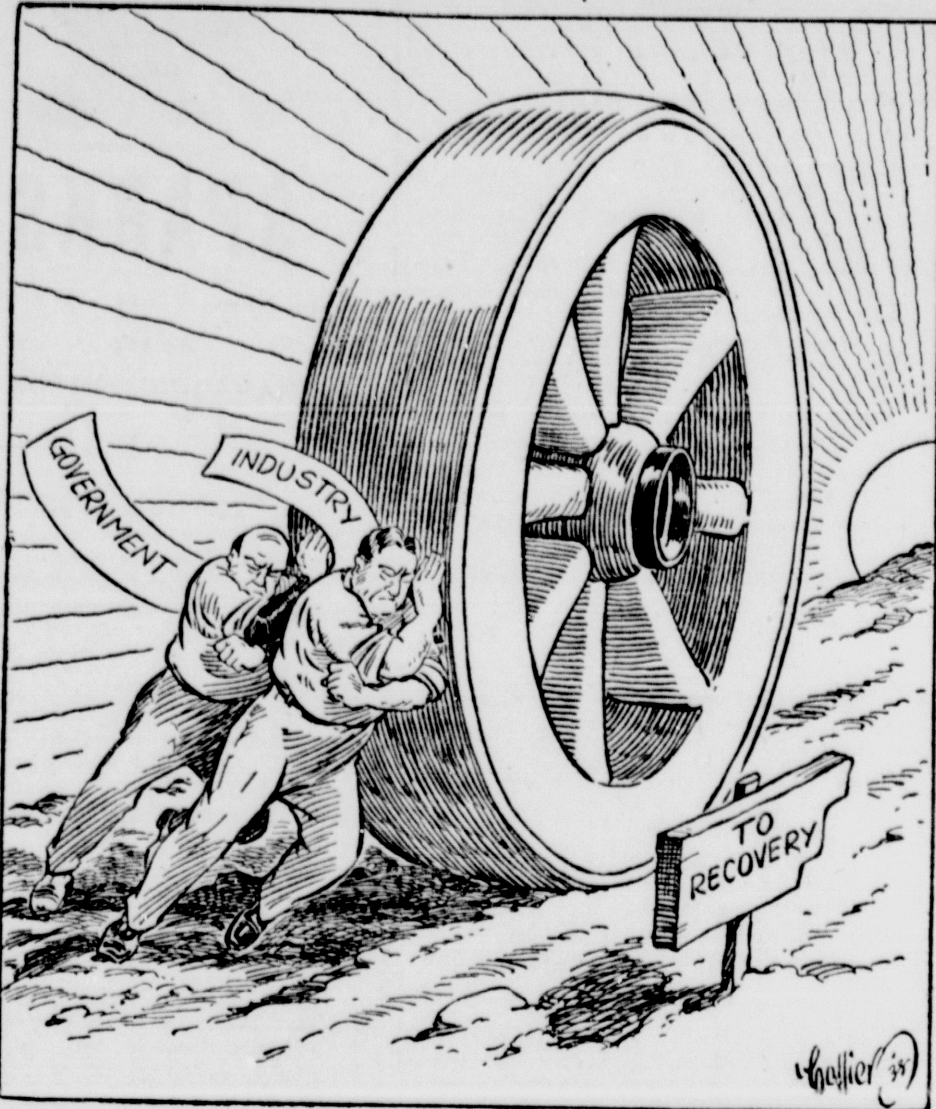

Although the volume of eggs shipped from Texas to interstate points exceeds by a wide margin receipts of eggs from out of State points (virtually no poultry is brought in from other states), the fact that Texas brings in eggs from other states at all is a peculiar situation. Undoubtedly Texas has natural advantages for egg production that are excelled in only a few states. The winters are mild and the spring and fall climates are favorable. Yet in each year for which we have the records, considerable quantities of eggs have been brought into the State. In 1936 receipts from other states totaled 225 cars.

"A number of egg processing plants already exist in Texas and no doubt these are even now contributing toward more favorable egg prices and helping to stabilize the egg market of this State."

"In Austin, Minn., a substantial industry has been developed by the Hormel Packing Company for canning poultry. So far as I am aware there are no plants similar to this in Texas. Yet it would seem, for reasons already given in reference to the egg industry, such an industry here for poultry canning should contribute toward lowering the costs of shipping poultry and thus aid in expanding the market for poultry in Texas. Moreover, such an industry should contribute toward stabilizing poultry prices on a higher level than would otherwise exist."

By rotating four 1½ acre patches seeded to Rhodes grass in the spring of 1936, William McKinney of Dimmit county has kept 133 head of sheep on the six acres without additional feed. All of the sheep are in good condition and the grass shows no sign of letting up. Occasionally the grass is mowed so as to keep the tender succulent grass at its best. This surplus grass is used for winter feed. McKinney plans to seed 25 additional acres of Rhodes grass this fall and increase the number of sheep on the ranch.
